Douglas and Abraham Lincoln for the vacant United States Senatorship from Illinois; but in reality the prize was larger because each became a candidate for the presidency two years later. Under the direction of the Illinois Historical Society, celebrations will be held this year in each of the seven places where the debates took place and on the exact day, viz: Ottawa, August 21; Freeport, August 27; Jonesboro, Sept. 15; Charleston, Sept. 18; Galesburg, Oct.7; Quincy, Oct. 13; Alton, Oct. 15. Public attention will thus be drawn to this important event in Illinois history, and the time seems suited to a study of the debates, their origin and results, and the topics they mainly discussed. While the debates belong properly to local history, in their results they became a part of national history. To devote one or more days of the present year to a...
