Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Newburgh; Her Institutions, Industries and Leading Citizens: Historical, Descriptive and Biographical In this book an earnest and candid effort has been made, first, to review the salient points in the history of our city; second, to record her remarkable advancement in the decade just past; and, finally and especially, to picture and describe truthfully and adequately the Newburgh of the present time - her appearance, her institutions, her industries, and citizens - so as to give, not only a fair representation of her to our contemporaries, but also to leave to those who will ere long fill our places a souvenir of the time and the place in which we live. As was said in our prospectus, it is one of the objects of this work to attract to Newburgh increased population and wealth. Immigration is the touchstone of the growth and prosperity of a city. Hence we see the attention given it by cities and States in the West; and it is everywhere observable that the localities which have shown the greatest enterprise in this direction have almost without exception surpassed other places of equal or even greater natural advantages. That Newburgh possesses adaptability for manufactures unexcelled by any other city in the eastern States, and that she has many great advantages for commerce and as a place of residence, is conceded by all who have fairly weighed her claims with those of other cities. But the fact that she has these qualifications is not alone sufficient. They must be made known abroad, so that those in less-favored places may be led to transfer their interest and business to our city. We believe that the...
