It will explain fully! Linder Art Co. 539 Washington Street, Chicago, U. S. A. To mention Commercial America will insure prompt attention Here, as in the airplane, airship engineering is a practical science. The craft is designed, built and launched inthe same perfunctory manner as the steamship of known repute. Its scientific operating equipment parallels that of its water analogy and its navigation is similar. It bears the same relation to the airplane as the ocean liner to the river steamer. Within the past year the world has been reduced to a third its original size. The airplane has nearly traversed the earth and has woven a gossamer fabric over the civilized world. Transatlantic travel has already been reduced from six days to less than one in actual flying time. The United...
