There came the sound of a discreet, embarrassed cough, and Althea Scrope turned quickly round from the window by which she had been standing still dressed in her outdoor things. She had heard the door open, the unfolding of the tea-table, the setting down of the tea-tray, but her thoughts had been far away from the old house in Westminster which was now her home; her thoughts had been in Newcastle, dwelling for a moment among the friends of her girlhood, for whom she had been buying Christmas gifts that afternoon. The footman's cough recalled her to herself, and to the present. Am I to say that you are at home this afternoon, ma'am? Althea's thoughtful, clear eyes rested full on the youth's anxious face.
