Extensive guideline! Its such a great go through. It is definitely basic but surprises in the 50 % of the pdf. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

General Accounting Office, 2002 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54513469 Subject: Discrimination in employment -- United States. Excerpt: . . . to the EEO-1 information for 2000 provided by the laboratories. As the figure shows, managers and professionals account for the majority of laboratory staff. Figure 1: Percentage of Positions in Each Job Category Group at the Three Weapons Laboratories, 2000 3 Operatives, laborers, and service workers 32 Technicians, clerks, and craft workers 65 Managers and professionals Source: GAOs analysis of EEO-1s obtained from Los Alamos, Sandia, and Lawrence Livermore. EEOC forwards the EEO-1 data to OFCCP. With these data, OFCCP identifies facilities that may warrant further examination - known as compliance evaluations - because their employment of minorities and women appears to differ from industry averages. According to OFCCP officials, OFCCP annually conducts compliance evaluations for a limited number of those identified facilities. While the EEO-1 information is the primary selection source for the majority of the compliance evaluations conducted by OFCCP, OFCCP can schedule a compliance evaluation, when warranted by special circumstances, such as three or more complaints with a common issue filed with EEOC. According to OFCCP officials, in selecting facilities, OFCCP does not consider the value of the contract or the facilities history of compliance. As part of a compliance evaluation, OFCCP analyzes the contractors personnel actions and compensation systems to determine if the contractor complied with the obligation not to discriminate. For evaluations where OFCCP identifies major EEO violations, it tries to resolve them through conciliation agreements with the contractors.
